

Human Brain

I ran this tutorial as 700x525 but you can make it what ever you want, or what you find better you use. Save the picture on the right or use the one of your choice.

in Photoshop open up the picture by pressing "Control + O" in the picture you just opened Select all of it and Past it in the new image that we created.

it should automatically make a new layer.

Select the area INSIDE the picture so you can have the sides fading out.

now press "Control + C" to copy it make a new layer and on that layer ( with your Selected Canvas still in place ) go "Select==>Feather" ( or Alt + Control + D ) and make it around 30 pixels.

Now just press "Control + V" and delete the first layer with the picture on it and it should look something like this ==>

Now use your imagination!
anything is possible in photoshop!
here is a little example.
