I suggest to use this thread to create some contact information so it would be easy to contact other moderators. Especially in case of team changes later this would be handy because information doesn't have to be asked for over and over again.

If you agree just edit this posting and edit yours in here. If you disagree just drop your comments below. 😊

Just a suggestion but i like to think this worked good for us over at wf-p so am trying to bring it over here.
