a "live archive" with xoops brasil data base??? using the same same?!?!?!?!?!?

The data base of xoops Brazil (with more than 18.000 users) was stolen, a "new" site was created, they are using my account with all my private messages. need more?

According with what I know, you created a new portal (xoops.uni.cc) with the same database of XoopsBrasil and gave it to members Gisa, Salomão and other I can't remember. They just moved it to a new domain and a new server, because the old one was off.

Robbery accusation is something very serious. Take it easy.

Well, but it is not the point. Changing or not the title of the link in Local Support section won't change many things. It's irrelevant.

Please forgive me if I make you angry.

I understand, you still dont know nothing about it, Lucas...

I tired of this subject. I suggest a exclusion of br.xoops.org subdomain until a moment when brazilian community of xoops it will mature enough.

Don't worry. The brazilian xoops users can find efficient brazilian communities using a google search.
