I'd also like to know what the reason for name change was, since thas specific site, the official Brazilian support site since it was the only one (I understand that this has changed, but AFAIK it still is the official support site).

And it never was, and never will be, known as XOOPS Underpop. Search Google for XOOPS Brazil and you'll find that same site, the Sourceforge project called XOOPS Brasil also related to that site, etc., etc.
