According with what I know, you created a new portal (xoops.uni.cc) with the same database of XoopsBrasil and gave it to members Gisa, Salomão and other I can't remember. They just moved it to a new domain and a new server, because the old one was off.

Robbery accusation is something very serious. Take it easy.

Well, but it is not the point. Changing or not the title of the link in Local Support section won't change many things. It's irrelevant.

Please forgive me if I make you angry.
